We Never Walk Alone...

Author Pattie Welek Hall is now completing her personal memoir of tragedy and triumph...

When Casey takes off to college, the only thing he packs in his suitcase is his larger-than-life personality. He never anticipates the unthinkable as his motorcycle plows into an oncoming pickup truck, sending his life into a tailspin. Stuck between two worlds for weeks on end, Casey awakes to unfamiliar territory, and finds the contents of his bag replaced with the sublime, the ridiculous and the unimaginable.

The only way his emotionally distraught mother can endure her son's traumatic brain injury is to hold onto her unwavering faith. But even her strong beliefs and his insurmountable challenges are tested. As Casey dances between life and death, her fears rise and her hopes for a normal life for her son diminish.

Blessed and supported by family and friends, surrounded by heavenly and earthly angels, Casey and his mother strive to find hope. Challenged by the all intrusive, incomprehensible feats of survival, tangled in a morass of uncertainty, he struggles to relearn each basic skill from eating, forming basic sentences, grabbing objects, to walking. Together their journey eclipses in a tale filled with love, drama and prayer, ultimately confronting their darkest fears.

Filled with suspense and emotional intensity WE NEVER WALK ALONE takes the reader on a mother's journey into the unknown, on a path that even Casey's doctors called "miraculous." Both mother and son are inspired by her undaunted faith, transformed by the intercession of heavenly beings, and eventually gripped by an unexpected twist of fate.
